

Dispensational Hymn of Faith

Mine eyes have read the glory,
Of when God created Earth,
And then by one man sin entered,
And it entered us by birth,
So God chose one man to give his seed,
The promises of worth,
His faith in things not seen.

God gave promises to Abram,
God gave promises to Abram,
God gave promises to Abram,
His faith in things not seen.

I've read about the chosen tribes,
Who walked across the sea,
God said, If you will obey my laws,
You will be blessed by me,
And so when they broke the law of God,
For sins they paid a fee,
Their faith in sacrifice.

God gave covenants to Moses,
God gave covenants to Moses,
God gave covenants to Moses,
Their faith in sacrifice.

Then to His own came Jesus,
To confirm the promises,
Preached kingdom come, sell all you have,
Repent of all your sins,
And when I return I'll judge the Earth,
Keep watch and lift your chins,
Their faith would come with power.

God gave Pentecost to Peter,
God gave Pentecost to Peter,
God gave Pentecost to Peter,
Their faith was in God's power.

Before He came again to judge,
He came to save one man,
Christ revealed through him the mystery,

Of God's eternal plan,
'Twas for all Christ had died,
And for our life He rose again,
Our faith in Christ alone.

God gave Paul a dispensation,
God gave Paul a dispensation,
God gave Paul a dispensation,
Our faith in Christ alone.
